Can the European Parliament get more likes than 1 egg?

(Democracy & Citizenship)
WHO AM I?

Dan Moxon

(does a lot of youth participation)

@dan_moxon
dan.moxon@peopledialoguechange.org

Director - People Dialogue and Change

Associate Director - The Centre for Children and Young People’s Participation, University of Central Lancashire

Member - Pool of European Youth Researchers, EU-CoE youth partnership

Member - Salto PI - Think Tank

Did not vote for Brexit
Some of the things we say about young people and democracy
Young people do not vote (enough)

Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)

Young people's trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)
Young people's trust and engagement with public institutions is falling.
Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation.
Young people do not vote (enough)
Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)
Young people’s trust and engagement with public institutions is falling
Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation
Youth populism and protest is rising
Young people do not vote (enough)

Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)

Young people's trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

You cannot even news
Young people do not vote (enough)

Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)

Young people's trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Young people do not vote (enough)

Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)

Young people’s trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Encourage young people to vote

Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)

Young people’s trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Encourage young people to vote

Enable young people to be more politically active

Young people’s trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Encourage young people to vote
Enable young people to be more politically active
Empower young people on their duties, rights role as citizens

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation
Youth populism and protest is rising
Young people cannot even news
Encourage young people to vote
Enable young people to be more politically active
Empower young people on their duties, rights role as citizens
Support young people’s alternative forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising
Young people cannot even news
Encourage young people to vote

Enable young people to be more politically active

Empower young people on their duties, rights role as citizens

Support young people's alternative forms of participation

Enable young people to develop common European Values

Young people cannot even news
Encourage young people to vote
Enable young people to be more politically active
Empower young people on their duties, rights role as citizens
Support young people’s alternative forms of participation
Enable young people to develop common European Values
Educate young people to identify false news through media literacy
Actual image of youth worker supporting young persons democratic engagement (2008 colourised)
Issue number 1
WHO WOULD WIN?
Who would win?

80 Million 18-24 year olds who don’t vote?
Who would win?

80 Million 18-24 year olds who don’t vote?

200,000 youth workers running citizenship education programmes?
Young people do not trust and engage with public institutions. Youth populism and protest are rising, and young people cannot even news.
Democracy . . . Just another thing Millennials are killing
Young people do not vote (enough)

Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)

Young people's trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Politicians can’t get young people to vote for them

Young people do not join political parties or stand for public office (enough)

Young people’s trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Politicians can’t get young people to vote for them

Political parties can’t or won’t engage young people

Young people’s trust and engagement with public institutions is falling

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Politicians can't get young people to vote for them

Political parties can't or won't engage young people

Public institutions are too distant and not transparent enough to trust

Young people are turning away from traditional forms of participation

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Politicians can't get young people to vote for them

Political parties can’t or won’t engage young people

Public institutions are too distant and not transparent enough to trust voting, political parties, and institutions are not functioning effectively.

Youth populism and protest is rising

Young people cannot even news
Politicians can’t get young people to vote for them
Political parties can’t or won’t engage young people
Public institutions are too distant and not transparent enough to trust
Voting, political parties, and institutions are not functioning effectively.
This is creating civil unrest
Young people cannot even news
Politicians can’t get young people to vote for them

Political parties can’t or won’t engage young people

Public institutions are too distant and not transparent enough to trust

Voting, political parties, and institutions are not functioning effectively.

This is creating civil unrest

Super saturation with politically driven information is creating “post-truths”
Politicians can't get young people to vote for them

Political parties can't or won't engage young people

Public institutions are too distant and not transparent enough to trust

Voting, political parties, and institutions are not functioning effectively.

This is creating civil unrest

Super saturation with politically driven information is creating “post-truths”
So what would this mean for youth work?
BIG

small world_record_egg

Let's set a world record together and get the most liked post on Instagram. Beating the current world record held by Kylie Jenner (18 million)! We got this 🙌
So what would this mean for youth work?
Millionaire to millennials: Stop buying avocado toast if you want to buy a home

Avocado prices have soared in recent years

time.com
Millionaire to millennials: Stop buying avocado toast if you want to buy a home.